

Notes and Acknowledgements to Visa Paper

Acknowledgements: The research for this paper was supported by a grant from the Richard Lounsbery Foundation. The Foundation's support is gratefully acknowledged. The author also deeply appreciates the invaluable contributions of the project advisory committee for their knowledge, advice and encouragement. Penny J. Rosser and Tony Edson generously contributed to the text of this article. Emerson Elek French, M.A. candidate in the GW Center for International Science and Technology Policy served as a research assistant on this project and provided valuable assistance.

Visa Project Advisory Committee:

Kathie Bailey-Mathae, Director, Board on International Scientific Organizations, National Academy of Sciences

Stephen A. (Tony) Edson, Principal, SAEdson, LLC; former Deputy Assistant Secretary for Visa Services, U.S. Department of State

Amy K. Flatten, Director, International Affairs, American Physical Society

David M. Hart, Professor, Director, Center for Science and Technology Policy, George Mason University

Victor C. Johnson, Senior Adviser for Public Policy, NAFSA – Association of International Educators

William B. Lacy, Vice Provost for University Outreach and International Programs at the University of California at Davis

Peter Muller, Director of Government Relations, Intel Corporation

Norman P. Neureiter, Director, Center for Science, Technology and Security Policy, AAAS, and former Science Adviser of the Secretary of State

Penny J. Rosser, Director, International Scholars Office, MIT

The Honorable C. Stewart Verdery, Jr., Partner and Founder, Monument Policy Group; LLC, former Assistant Secretary for Policy and Planning, Department of Homeland Security

E. William Colglazier, Science and Technology Adviser to the Secretary of State (observer)

Notes

Page 55

using zebra fish as a model system: <http://ugbdd.curie.fr/en/article/001066-long-intervening-noncoding-rnas-lincrnas-vertebrate-development>

55

frustrating encounters with embassy employees: Cornelia Dean, “Scientists Fear Visa Trouble Will Drive Foreign Students Away,” The New York Times, March 2, 2009

58

failure to overcome the presumption of immigrant intent: Official State Department numbers on reasons for denial are hard to come by, but statements on the websites of many U.S. embassies support this account. See, for example, <http://lima.usembassy.gov/niv/refusals/ineligibilities2.html> and <http://newdelhi.usembassy.gov/consular/refused-or-pending-visa/214b-refusal.html>.

58

34,000 foreign students studying in in higher education institutions in the United States: Edward B. Fiske, “Is U.S. Less Hospitable? Boom in Foreign Students Seems to Be Over,” The New York Times, February 11, 1997.

59

the proportion remaining in the United States was about three-quarters: Michael G. Finn, Stay Rates of Foreign Doctorate Recipients from U.S. Universities, 2009. Oak Ridge, TN: Oak Ridge Institute for Science and Education, January 2012, Table 3.

60

an estimated 20,000 in 2003: U.S. Government Accountability Office, Border Security: Improvements Needed to Reduce Time Taken to Adjudicate Visas for Science Students and Scholars, GAO-04-371, February 25, 2004.

60

The Mantis process is triggered: Section 212(a)(3)(A) of the Immigration and Nationality Act specifies visa ineligibilities related to security.

60

listen for key words or phrases: 9 FAM 40.31 N5.1-3 Using the Technology Alert List (TAL).

60

majoring in engineering fields: Institute of International Education, Open Doors 2013 briefing, “Fast Facts.” The U.S. is encouraging Iranian students to study in this country and has even established a “virtual embassy” on the Internet to facilitate recruitment.

60

average processing time is two or three weeks: 2002-3 data from Amy Flatten, “US Visa Difficulties Are Lessening, but More Must Be Done,” Physics Today, Vol. 58, No. 2 (February 2005), pp. 49-52; more recent data from a presentation at AAAS headquarters, July 8, 2011, by staff of the Institute for Defense Analysis, Science & Technology Policy Institute.

61

well-known scholars and researchers: Committee on Science, Security, and Prosperity; Committee on Scientific Communication and National Security; National Research Council, Beyond Fortress America: National Security Controls on Science and Technology in a Globalized World (Washington, DC: National Academies Press, 2009).

62

software development and related areas: Data from <http://www.myvisajobs.com/Reports/2013-H1B-Visa-Category.aspx>

62

a record $34 million to settle claims of visa abuse: Julia Preston, “Federal Inquiry into Indian Firm Puts a Focus on Widespread Visa Abuses,” The New York Times (October 30, 2013).

62

little action has been taken so far: Ron Hira, Outsourcing America’s Technology and Knowledge Jobs, EPI Briefing Paper #187 (Washington, DC: Economic Policy Institute, March 28, 2007).

62

program is under active discussion: S.744 - Border Security, Economic Opportunity, and Immigration Modernization Act, <http://beta.congress.gov/bill/113th-congress/senate-bill/744>.

62

stapling a green card to the diploma: “S.744: Border Security, Economic Opportunity, and Immigration Modernization Act – Provisions of Interest to Universities,” <http://www.aplu.org/document.doc?id=4590>.

63

required to share security and criminal intelligence information: Edward Alden and Liam Schwartz, “Faster, Safer, and Smarter: A Modern Visa System for the United States,” Washington, DC: Council on Foreign Relations, January 2012.

63

information obtained by U.S. Customs and Border Protection: Paul Rosenzweig, “Biometric Exit – It’s Groundhog Day All Over Again,” Lawfare Blog (May 28, 2013) <http://www.lawfareblog.com/2013/05/biometric-exit-its-groundhog-day-all-over-again/>

63

pose formidable barriers: The Intelligence Reform and Terrorism Prevention Act of 2004 calls for DHS to develop plans for accelerating implementation of such a system, but the Department has missed several deadlines and stated in mid-2013 that it was intending to incorporate these plans in its FY 2016 budget.

63

pave the way for expanding the Visa Waiver Program: Mark Rockwell, “Long-planned Visa Exit System Inches Forward,” FCW.com, August 5, 2013.

63

known as the “JOLT Act”: C. Stewart Verdery, Jr., and Jessica R. Herrera-Flanigan make a similar argument and also point out the economic benefits of expanding the Visa Waiver Program in their article, “Open for Business?” Harvard International Review, January 31, 2013. <http://hir.harvard.edu/open-for-business>.

63

two-year visa interview waiver pilot program: Executive Order 13597 of January 19, 2012, “Establishing Visa and Foreign Visitor Processing Goals and the Task Force On Travel and Competitiveness,” Federal Register, Vol. 77, No. 15, January 24, 2012, pp. 3373-75.

64

50 new visa adjudicator positions: U.S. Department of State and Department of Homeland Security, Executive Order 13597: Improvements to Visa Processing and Foreign Visitor Processing, 180 Day Progress Report, August 2012.